Engaging & Informative Talks

Karen engages and focuses on conscious, awake leaders innovating sustainable solutions that bring more joy, passion, and aliveness to the world. She integrates the following themes into her talks: Culture & Communication; Organization & Operations; Revenue & Resiliency; and Ease & Elegance. Here are a few examples ...

Business Planning from Your Heart: FUN before funding

- Why the corporate “silo” model leads to dysfunction
- Importance of covering your bases as an evolutionary entrepreneur
- Superior performance of purpose and values based businesses
- Using Circles of Success to bring enjoyment to business planning

3 Pillars of Transformational Leadership for Your Virtual Team

- Create a harmonious team culture
- Build a resilient team that can handle change
- Minimize conflict, drama, and missed expectations
- Maximize your shared ability to achieve high-performance results that matter most

The Invisible Epidemic of Digital Clutter: Disguised Symptoms, Hidden Causes, and Simple Treatments You Can Apply Today

- Recognize the insidious symptoms of inflamed digital clutter
- Diagnose your root cause of chronic electronic plague
- Create your custom digital treatment program

Think Outside the Clocks: Creativity, Presence, and Revenue

- Distinguish between driven by mechanical time or attending to now
- Know which technologies support your personal presence
- Have a plan to return to the flow when you find yourself stuck

ABOUT KAREN

Karen Fritz is author of best-selling Purposetivity: The Feminine Face of Productivity for Time, Team & Tech, and The Art of Adventure. She “graduated” from corporate management decades ago, and has learned what it takes to smoothly run successful 7-figure entrepreneurial ventures while at the same time being hired to teach on five continents.

Her unbridled exuberance about integrating diverse degrees and certifications – in tech and psych; quantum physics and cultural anthropology; business and ancient wisdom – ensures she “gets” what you’re building and helps you prioritize the most elegant (and efficient) path to results – so YOU can succeed on YOUR terms.

Karen raised her sons in Colorado. For her 50th birthday, she took a class and got herself a fast red motorcycle. Number of people shocked? Zero. She currently lives in California with her dog (The Dread Pirate Wigglebutt), motorcycles, race car, and knitting stash.
